Search for new Cal Poly president underway

CAL POLY HUMBOLDT
CAL POLY HUMBOLDT – The California State University (CSU) Board of Trustees is beginning the search for the next regularly appointed president of California State Polytechnic University, Humboldt (Cal Poly Humboldt). Michael E. Spagna is currently serving as interim president.

The first meeting of the Trustees’ Committee for the Selection of the President will be held in a hybrid in-person/virtual open forum from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 10, 2024, in the Van Duzer Theatre on campus. During this time, the committee will outline the search process, and the community will be invited to share their preferred attributes of the next president of Cal Poly Humboldt.

The open forum will also be live-streamed and archived on the Cal Poly Humboldt Presidential Search webpage, where individuals may also provide their input via written submission.

Pre-registration is not required to attend and provide comment in person. However, campus and community members wishing to address the committee through the virtual option were required to register in advance on the president search webpage. The deadline to register to speak virtually during the open forum was Tuesday, Oct. 8 [Note: this news release was received too late for advance publication. – Ed.].

CSU Trustee Leslie Gilbert-Lurie will chair the committee. The other trustee members include Larry L. Adamson, Lillian Kimbell and Anna Ortiz-Morfit, as well as Trustee Chair Jack B.

Michael Spagna

Clarke Jr. and CSU Chancellor Mildred García.

Board policy requires the CSU trustees chair to appoint an Advisory Committee to the Trustees’ Committee. The Advisory Committee is composed of representatives from the faculty, staff, students and alumni, as well as a member of a campus advisory board, all of whom are selected by the campus’s constituency groups. Also on the Advisory Committee is a vice president or academic dean from the campus, and a president of another CSU campus, both selected by the chancellor.

Both the Trustees’ Committee for the Selection of the President and the Advisory Committee to the Trustees’ Committee function as one unified group.

Members of the Advisory Committee for the Selection of the President include:

- Daniel Barton, department chair and professor, Department of Wildlife, and Marissa Ramsier, professor, Department of Anthropology (faculty representatives)
- Carmen Bustos-Works, associate vice president, Academic Programs and dean, Undergraduate and Graduate Studies (administrative representative)
- Mara Kravitz and Wysdem Singleton (student representatives)
- Soraya M. Coley, president, Cal Poly Pomona (president representative)
- Betty Chinn and Virgil Moorehead (community representatives)
- Bella Gray, student placements and community engagement specialist, College of Professional Studies (staff representative)
- Daniel E. Sealy (alumni representative)
- Miles Slattery, President’s Advisory Board representative
- James F. Woglom, chair, University Senate

Over the next several months, the committee will review candidates and conduct interviews, with the announcement of Cal Poly Humboldt’s next regularly appointed president made during the CSU Board of Trustees meeting in March 2025.

Well-mannered Rizz and brave, dancing Anya

We have been having fun out and about with adoptable dogs lately! This past Saturday, Redwood Pals, along with several shelter volunteers, took dogs and puppies to the Open House at the McKinleyville Fire Station.
We set up a pen for the three cute puppies that we brought and strolled around the various exhibits with the bigger dogs. There were fire trucks, and helicopters and critical care units, and even some Search and Rescue dogs. Our dogs greeted everyone politely and let kids and adults alike pet them and give them an occasional treat. A couple of the dogs even braved a climb into the helicopters!
One of the dogs attending the event was our friend Rizz. Rizz has been in a foster home for a little while and it has certainly agreed with him! Always a handsome fellow, but now his coat was soft and luxurious. His manners were flawless with humans small and large and with the other dogs. He met all the dogs politely and gently. When our girl Anya wanted to play, you could see he’d be more than happy to oblige if he wasn’t on a leash and there was room to run.

Rizz is well-mannered in the house also, reports his foster mom. They have an older and smaller female dog and say that Rizz is very respectful of her, though even she gives in to his charms and romps around the yard with him.
Rizz has a very cute habit of choosing a toy to play with vidual would be lucky to have this lovely dog join them.

Rizz is about three years old and is neutered, microchipped, current on his vaccinations and tested for heartworm. Rizz weighs in around 75 pounds.
Anya is another dog that came to the Open House. She is a very sweet and silly girl of about two. Anya loves everyone and also did very well with children and adults. She likes to take a moment to size up other dogs and if she thinks they look like good playmate material, she may do a very silly dance in their direction with front legs in the air! Anya was brave enough to climb up into the Cal-Fire helicopter and was curious, but not afraid, of the talking fire hydrant.
She has demonstrated to us that she can ride well in a car and enjoys going new places. I took her on a home visit recently and she played very nicely with the resident smaller dog, chasing the ball when he chased the ball but never taking it away. She also met a cat on her home visit and seemed like she could be a candidate for a home with cats with a little guidance.

Anya is spayed, microchipped, current on her vaccinations and tested for heartworm. She weighs about 40 pounds.

Both of these dogs are available through the Humboldt County Animal Shelter. The shelter is currently offering reduced fees on dogs and cats in an effort to lower the population numbers.
These beautiful pets can join your family for less than the cost of an exam at the veterinarian! Call (707) 840-9132 for more information or to make an appointment to meet some of the available animals.

was driving crashed through a closed metal gate, then continued forward and proceeded to crash into a bank where the vehicle rolled onto its roof.
Upon law enforcement’s arrival to the vehicle, no occupants were located. Deputies conducted a search including a specialized K-9, but Stout was not located; he has not been seen since.
As of Oct. 2, Dylan Stout is now the subject in a missing person investigation following the report from his family. A search is being conducted in the Kneeland area, utilizing a California Highway Patrol (CHP) helicopter, HCSO Search and Rescue, ATVs and drones.
Stout is described as a 6-foot, 4-inch tall white male adult with blue eyes, red hair, weighing about 220 lbs. He was last seen wearing a black shirt, possibly a sports jersey.
Anyone with information for the Sheriff’s Office regarding Dylan Stout’s possible whereabouts should call the Humboldt County Sheriff’s Office at (707) 445-7251.

HCSO asks for help with 1991 missing person Andrea Jerri White

HUMBOLDT COUNTY SHERIFF’S OFFICE
HUMBOLDT – The Humboldt County Sheriff’s Office is asking for the public’s help in a missing persons case from 1991.
On July 31, 1991, Andrea Jerri White (also known as “Chic”) traveled from the Hoopa area to Eureka to complete errands. When she did not return home that day, her family reported her missing to the Humboldt County Sheriff’s Office.
Early in the investigation, detectives were able to locate a witness who gave White a ride from Guintoli Lane, Arcata, to the Blue Lake exit on State Route 299, from which point she had reportedly planned to hitch hike the rest of the way home.
This witness was the last known person to have seen White, and there have been no other leads located to indicate her method of travel from Eureka to Arcata. White was never seen again and has made no contact with family.
White was 22 years old at the time of her disappearance. She is a Native American female, 5 feet tall, weighs about 110-115 pounds with brown shoulder-length hair and brown eyes. She was possibly wearing Levis pants, a sleeveless white shirt and a black leather jacket, and carrying a black duffel bag with white trim.

The Sheriff’s Office conducted several searches along State Route 299 from Blue Lake to Willow Creek. ATVs, ground searchers and a helicopter were utilized. White left behind several small children at the time of her disappearance.
The Sheriff’s Office believes White’s disappearance is a homicide and asks anyone with information to contact Investigator Mike Fridley at (707) 441-3024.

SAMSIP Walking Tour is this Saturday, 9 a.m. to noon

CITY OF ARCATA
ARCATA – The City of Arcata is hosting a walking tour for the South Arcata Multimodal Safety Improvement Plan (SAMSIP) on Saturday, Oct. 19 from 9 a.m. to noon.
The tour will be split into two halves. The first half of the tour will begin at the Arcata Community Center to experience the east side of the U.S. Highway 101 and State Route 255 interchange at 9 a.m.
Then, at 10:30 a.m., the group will convene again at the corner of Samoa Boulevard and South G Street to experience the west side of the interchange as well as Samoa Boulevard and South G Street. The purpose of this event is to engage the community on the SAMSIP and to start thinking about the changes the community would like to see incorporated as part of this project.
SAMSIP will focus on enhancing multimodal safety on the U.S. Highway 101 and State-Route 255 interchange, as well as safety and beautification enhancements along Samoa Boulevard and G Street, South of Samoa Boulevard.
The goal of the project is to improve and bridge gaps in multi-modal access, making it desirable for all ages and abilities to use active modes of travel in south Arcata.
This project aims to address the inequitable conditions created by U.S. Highway 101 and State Route 255 which disincentivizes bicycle and pedestrian travel in favor of vehicular transportation. In addition, the project will explore options for beautifying and improving safety along Samoa Boulevard and South G Street.

The end goal of this planning process is to produce concept designs that reflect the community’s input and needs to prepare for future phases.
On the City’s SAMSIP webpage, community members will find both an online survey and a Social Pinpoint interactive map to help contextualize the project and provide the City with feedback.
The City of Arcata encourages the community to utilize both the survey and the interactive map to provide input as the project progresses.
For details on SAMSIP, the walking tour or to provide feedback, please visit the webpage at cityofarcata.org/samsip or contact the City of Arcata Building and Engineering Department at (707) 825-2128 or engineering@cityofarcata.org.

Housing | Density levels and the availability of utilities

lic water and sewer services.
The new law responds to state legislation, Senate Bill 6, known as The Middle Class Housing Act of 2022.
The bill’s goal, as stated in its text, is to provide “additional housing units for middle-class Californians near job centers” while at densities “deemed appropriate to accommodate housing for lower income households.”
Last summer, the county’s Planning Commission approved a draft version of the ordinance with a maximum density level of 30 units per acre.
But general application of that density level was questioned by Supervisor Mike Wilson.
“Some areas may not have water, sewer and other services, so maybe that’s not the best place to be putting multifamily housing and that sort of thing,” he said. “I think it’s practical to limit this type of development density.”
Planning Director John Ford said the ordinance focuses on “areas that are already developed with commercial uses and largely within community services districts.”
But he noted “the rural nature of Humboldt County” which “does have some population centers that are scattered throughout and may not be within an urban cluster.”
Wilson said “isolated communities” would be created if development happens in outlying areas.

“That’s what happens when we have the very NIM-BY perspective on affordable housing,” he continued.
But Supervisor Michelle Bushnell’s Southern Humboldt district includes somewhat developed areas without public services and she asked Ford if Wilson’s proposed restrictions would exclude them.
When Ford said they would, Bushnell said she’s “not feeling” the need for the restrictions.
Another issue, one which the Planning Commission discussed at length, is parking requirements.
The commission supported eliminating parking requirements if housing development is within a half-mile of public transit and meets affordable housing standards.

But lower density development in rural areas might not meet the affordable housing threshold.
After some discussion, supervisors agreed to remove parking requirements for all housing near public transit service.
The disagreement over allowing housing development in unserved areas was resolved by adding a requirement for a discretionary permit process in those cases.
Supervisors, minus Supervisor Natalie Arroyo who was absent, unanimously approved the ordinance.

What Joanne began, Carley continues with Bright and Green sustainability

The environment is in us, not outside us. The trees are our lungs, the rivers our bloodstream. We are all interconnected, and what you do to the environment ultimately you do to yourself.
— Ian Somerhalder.

In 2020 there were 290 million tons of trash generated in the U.S. Breaking it down, that's over nine pounds of waste generated every single second. The food industry contributes to our waste problem by often using tableware that gets thrown away. Sometimes it seems like there isn't any other option. But there is a possible solution to this problem- recyclable dishware.

Arcata resident and environmental activist Joanne McGarry started Bright and Green, a local consumer waste reduction business, as a "smart and environmental" project in 2012 at UC Davis.

This was after learning that the Davis Co-op was providing employees with reusable utensils to borrow for community events. We chatted via Facebook recently so that I could learn more. Her pursuit was accomplished using her own time and money. She told me that people and organizations in Humboldt County expressed an interest in her project to "keep the trash cans emptier."

The Humboldt Unitarian Universalist Fellowship was an "early adopter" and would wash her dishes after they were used. Humboldt State University (now Cal Poly Humboldt) used the dinnerware for a career day in the gym. But eventually, Ms. Mc-Garry decided to pass the torch. So at a New Year celebration at Redwood Raks in 2024, Carly Tambling took the helm of the business.

I talked with Carley Tambling, the new owner of Bright and Green on Sept. 18 at Sunny Brae's Coffee Break. The Bright and Green website states that they reused 2,700 items during the month before our meet-up.

This article is edited for clarity and length.

Dana Utman: What is Bright and Green?

Carley Tambling: It is a reusable service for events and gatherings of all sizes. We also have additional waste reduction management services that we do on the side. We're working on expanding that, whether it's in your home or grocery store. We have sealed containers of reusable dinnerware service that we drop off at events and places of gatherings that use single disposables.

Instead of having a trash bin collect trash, we collect the dinnerware at the end of the day, and we wash the dishes. We even made a pitch to Costco the other day. Imagine going to Costco and getting served on a plate that doesn't end up in landfill, and actually supports local jobs too.

Was Costco open to it?

They were surprisingly open to it. I think I'm looking at a great pilot program. I wanted to make sure that I started the business here (in Humboldt County) because it aligns with our values.

Joanne McGarry started bright green 11 years ago. What made you take an interest in it?

She walks the talk. She inspired me at Arcata City Council meetings to speak up for things that I believed in. I realized that Oysterfest was the biggest waste producing event on the Plaza, so I took over waste management for it. We got together a lot of people, I learned about waste reduction, and got involved with the group Zero Waste. Everybody wants Joanne's program to work. We wanted to make sure that it was something that we could turn into an actual business.

What is the path you traveled that brought you to doing this?

Before moving here I spent seven years traveling in about 42 different countries. I never spent more than three months in one place, so this is the longest that I've been anywhere. I started when I was about 22 and it was wonderful! I traveled alone and on less than $7.50 a day. My goal was to spend under 10 bucks, and I hit it! I was able to do that through hitchhiking, couch surfing and wolfing (learning and working on organic farms). I worked at lots of hostels and organic farms and learned so much about the world through first-hand experience and living with locals. I did a lot of volunteer work before my travels, and I wanted to learn how I could help the world in a way that actually makes a difference. I just finished my degree from Cal Poly Humboldt last year.

What was your major?

Business and new venture management. I was president of the Entrepreneurs Club (in 2022).

What are your goals today?

Before people buy a single use disposable, or before they have an event or gathering, to instead use Bright and Green so that they will stop creating waste. I learned that bioplastics are not locally compostable. I actually called industrial composting facilities in Northern California, the ones that are supposed to be able to compost bioplastics – such as the cup in your hand right now (I was holding a coffee cup provided by the café). It actually isn't just paper, it has a plastic lining on the inside to prevent the liquid from coming out. It may be labeled as compostable, but the fact is that the facilities around Northern California are not actually able to compost bioplastics. It doesn't break down. If anything it might just be breaking down into micro-bioplastics. You are unable to tell the difference between plastic and bioplastic by looking at it. So it's not recyclable or compostable. It all ends up in the trash. That's what really triggered me.

CLIMATE CHANGE AND YOU

Is this a full-time or part time job for you?

I consider it a volunteer job right now. I have very strong community values. I really believe that if you support your community it will support you, and that's the community that I want to live in. I want to help us meet our goal to reduce our waste. I have done a lot of volunteer work, and I learned that I can actually create jobs. I've been able to pay people between $16 and $20 an hour for dishwashing and waste reduction. The goal is to get up to $25 an hour next year.

I only feel angry when I see waste. When I see people throwing away things we could use.

❖ 50 MUSICAL EXPERIENCES AT 16 HOUSES

All Sunny Brae is a stage Thursday

PorchFest is a nationwide event that brings local musicians together in neighborhoods to foster community and uplift local performers. Playhouse Arts and Humboldt Hot Air are thrilled to be bringing PorchFest to the Sunny Brae neighborhood of Arcata.

PorchFest in Sunny Brae happens Thursday, Oct. 10 from noon to 6 p.m. with more than 50 bands spread throughout the neighborhood at 16 houses. Attendees are encouraged to walk, bike, hop and skip between venues. It is all ages and free!

The complete schedule with addresses is below, but you can also go to playhousearts.org/porchfest for an interactive map listing the schedule and address for each “porch” performance.

Porchfest music festivals began as a means for neighbors and local community members to highlight their music on front porches.

The original event in 2007 in Ithaca, New York, started with about 20 musicians and has since grown to more than 100 musical participants.

This year’s event in Sunny Brae is the first ever in Humboldt. Neroli Devaney, manager of Humboldt Hot Air, heard about the event from her sister, Nila, in Philadelphia and wanted to bring that lively energy to her neighborhood of Sunny Brae. She thought it was a great way of bringing people together in a shared community.

“What’s cool about ours is that the music is very diverse,” Devaney said. “Most acts are folk and singer/songwriters, but we also have Hip Hop, experimental bands, punk and the Pad Dolce drum orchestra. I do love a party.”

The event is free and kid friendly. No beer or alcohol will be served.

NORTH COAST GROWERS ASSOCIATION HUMBOLDT – Celebrate Fall at Humboldt County Farmers’ Markets: Local, Fresh, and Still Going Strong! As fall sets in, the North Coast Growers Association (NCGA) would like to remind the community that Farmers’ Markets across Humboldt County are still packed with fresh, seasonal produce.

With summer winding down, now is the perfect time for shoppers to support Humboldt County farmers, nourish their families with healthy food and enjoy the vibrant bounty of the fall season.

This year, Eureka residents will be pleased to hear that the Henderson Center market has new extended hours. Henderson Center will wrap up the season with the final market on Nov. 14, so shoppers can enjoy the Thursday market even longer this year.

The fall is harvest season, a critical time for farmers who are working hard to bring the freshest, sustainably grown produce to market. By shopping at Humboldt County’s Farmers’ Markets, community members can enjoy delicious, nutritious food while supporting small farmers.

Meanwhile, fall crops like apples, pumpkins, winter squash, hardy greens, garlic and onions are taking center stage. Come see what’s ripe and stock up on beautiful autumn produce, perfect for hearty meals as the weather cools.

Many vendors also offer local

Arcata names artists for projects to appear around town

CITY OF ARCATA

ARCATA – The City of Arcata, in collaboration with Playhouse Arts, is proud to announce the artists selected through this Call for Art and their inspiring projects that will soon enhance our community.

This year’s selection highlights a diverse range of artistic expressions, from murals that tell stories of migration and cultural resurgence to sculptures that inspire, as well as a unique musical experience that brings people together through song. Selected Arts and Culture Projects:

- Centro Del Pueblo – Sanctuary Garden Mural: Centro Del Pueblo will create a series of murals within the public right-of-way adjacent to the Sanctuary Garden at F and 11th streets which will vividly capture the migration journeys, cultural identities and resilience of Latinx, Indigenous, and immigrant communities. This project will be a testament to the strength and diversity that enrich the community.
- David Mata – Mural at the Arcata Library: David Mata will create a vibrant mural that celebrates California Native basketry and reflects the community’s rich cultural heritage.
- James Smith – Sculpture on the Arca- ta Plaza: James Smith’s sculpture will bring a dynamic and modern touch to Arcata’s downtown Plaza.

- John King – Sculpture in Northtown: Sculptor John King will present a striking new piece that captures the intersection of form and meaning, located at the entrance to Northtown Arcata between G and H streets.
- Jullia Finkelstein – Mural at Carlson Park: Jullia Finkelstein will bring her artistic vision to Carlson Park with a mural that celebrates native plants and the beauty of shared spaces.
- Loren Wheeler – Mural on Alliance Road: Local artist Loren Wheeler will paint a mural on a retaining wall along Alliance Road which tells a traditional story, as a way to preserve the Yurok cultural ways through his art.
- Threshold Choir – Music Performance and Workshop: The Threshold Choir presented a community sing-along, fostering community spirit through the power of voice, with social and musical activist Melanie DeMore.

DeMore lead a workshop at the Arcata Presbyterian Church Sept. 14 and a sing-along at Redwood Park on Sept. 15.

These selected works will be developed over the coming months, with installations scheduled throughout the year.

Each project is a testament to the creativity and vision of our artists and their commitment to enriching the cultural fabric of our community.

The 2024 Call For Artists was initiated to engage local and regional artists in contributing to public art projects that explore cultural history and lived experience in Arcata anchored to the themes of resistance, remembrance and resurgence.

The Call for Artists was shaped and reviewed by a panel of local arts and cultural leaders. Funding for the 2024 Call For Artists is made possible through the American Rescue Plan Act. The City also welcomes public art proposals on a rolling basis outside of funded calls for art through the Art Around Arcata program.

For more information about the selected projects or to learn about upcoming events, please visit cityofarcata.org/1080/2024-Call-For-Artists or contact Playhouse Arts at info@playhousearts.org.

ARCATA BOTTOM TANK-TOWER’S STUMPY MAJESTY

THERE'S SOMETHING YOU DON'T SEE EVERY DAY Where just weeks ago, a bizarre, partly-obscured techno-tower bristling with jagged metal appurtenances loomed over Foster Avenue on the pastoral Arcata Bottom, last week saw what may be the end of the beginning for the Cingular Wireless cell tower's prolonged larval stage. For months, the 120-foot, unactivated cell tower has stood half-naked with its faux water tank cladding incomplete, its drooping petticoats exposing the infernal antennae within to public view (see inset, top right). Approved by the county Planning Commission three years ago, the unusually elongated tank is one-third taller and skinnier than first proposed in order to allow up to four carriers' worth of antennas, thus avoiding installation of a separate tower that had been proposed nearby. That late modification gave the tank its etiolated appearance, while wind, rain, spongy ground and a bird nest all – which, thankfully, was respected – conspired to delay completion. But Cingular customers, and others whose carriers may be co-located there, may soon rejoice over the improved connectivity made possible by the faux water tank/cell tower when at long last it gets turned on. Last week, workers were seen on high, apparently applying some of the topmost panels of the pretend-tank façade, left, which now presents a stumpy new grandeur when viewed from the southeast, above. This week, the still-exposed western face of the tower is supposed to get its rustic cladding, completing the surface tankification, with cellular activation possibly to follow.

❖ Sign your letter to the Mad River Union with a real name and a city of origin, plus a phone number (which won't be published) for identity verification and send it to opinion@madriverunion.com. Also, make paragraphs, spell check, don't double space and don't capitalize random words. Basically, don't use Marian punctuation and everything will be fine.

Yes on Measure H

I encourage a Yes Vote on Measure H. Measure H is designed specifically to support and expand programs the Arcata community worked to build since the pandemic to address climate change, homelessness, the impacts of homelessness and community building particularly in the Valley West Neighborhood.

These programs have demonstrated their ability to improve Arcata and have potential to support more people and neighborhoods if Measure H is passed.

A key focus of Measure H is the continuation and expansion of the Community Ambassador Program. The presence of Ambassadors on the Plaza has reduced calls for police service significantly while maintaining clean public spaces and offering a friendly, approachable presence that supports businesses and visitors.

With widespread community support, there is a strong desire to expand this program to other business districts across Arcata.

Measure H will provide support for community programs in Valley West, including the long-term goal of establishing a community center.

With the recent opening of Carlson Park on the Mad River, there are new opportunities for youth and family programs, as well as recreation activities that can strengthen both the residential and business community in Valley West.

Measure H will also fund alternative responses to 911 calls that do not require police intervention, particularly those involving mental health crises. Embedding trained mental health professionals within the Arcata Police Department is a critical step in providing compassionate and effective support for residents.

While no one enjoys paying higher taxes, Arcata has become the community we love because we've chosen to invest in what matters locally. Measure H is an investment in Arcata's future, and I strongly urge you to vote yes.

Words and airwaves

I give you words I just put over the airwaves.

As I see it, our world is under repair. Although I also see that more will have to be repaired.

I have been seeing many of my friends on Facebook and elsewhere asking for prayers. Spiritual leaders are asking us to pray for everything on this planet and speak of the benefits of these prayers being spoken – even silently – collectively and often.

I am offering a prayer today through KMUD's precious airwaves. My prayer is that we realize that we were not born into this world to be afraid of one another.

And because my prayer is going through radio airwaves – which were human-invented in 1895 – they will travel past the nearest star.

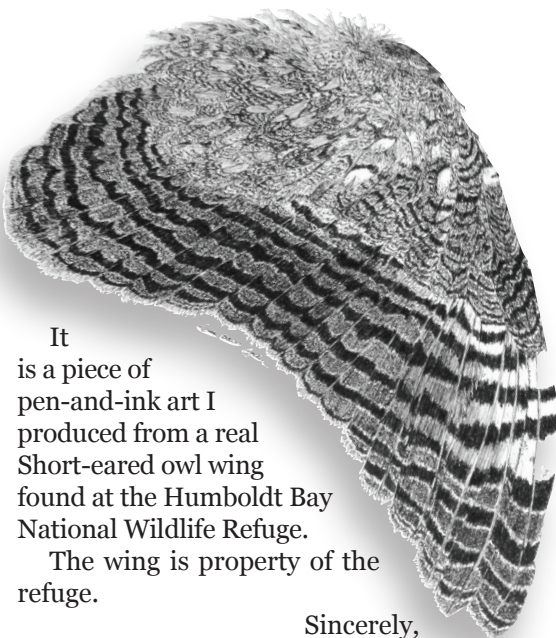

Our words have a profound effect on ourselves and all life around us.

Please my Brothers and Sisters, let us make sure our words are necessary, kind, and loving.

That wing: not a thing

I am writing on behalf of my Bird Brains column of Oct. 2. I want to assure readers that the wing depicted in the column on feathers is not a picture of a real wing.

It is a piece of pen-and-ink art I produced from a real Short-eared owl wing found at the Humboldt Bay National Wildlife Refuge.

The wing is property of the refuge.

Coming: a noon fog bell

Visitors to Trinidad's harbor area are noticing some dramatic improvements. The Cher-ae Heights Indian Community of the Trinidad Rancheria has installed beautiful rain gardens near the parking areas as part of their project to eliminate storm water runoff into the Bay. The Trinidad Rancheria, together with the Trinidad Civic Club, are in the final stages of finishing the Memorial Lighthouse Monument.

Last week, Scott Baker, Mike Morton and Jim Baker finished polishing and installing the 1871 Fourth Order Fresnel Lens, in storage since the lighthouse was moved to the harbor on Jan. 10, 2018, in the lighthouse tower. Scott and Jim are boardmembers with Trinidad Museum Society and they, and Mike Morton, frequently donate their time and skills to Trinidad historic preservation.

Along with the 1898 bronze fog bell in place in front of the Memorial Monument, these historic navigational aids, decommissioned by the United States Coast Guard in 1949 and presented to the Trinidad Civic Club, will be preserved in perpetuity. Soon an automated bell-ringing system which will chime at noon each day will be in place.

During last week's Ner-er-Nerh Days celebration at the harbor, the Trinidad Rancheria's sovereign nation flag was raised alongside the American flag for the first time at the Monument.

Ben Shepherd on Early Trails and Roads and Routes in Humboldt County

Ben Shepherd, former Trinidad School teacher and member of the McKinleyville Community Services District, will present a talk on "Early Trails and Roads and Routes in Humboldt County" on Friday, Oct. 11 at noon at the Eureka Center for Spiritual Living on 239 Buhne St., Eureka.

The Society of Humboldt County Pioneers, of which Ben is a member, is sponsoring the talk at its monthly potluck luncheon. Guests are welcome. Reserve a place or find out more about the organization by emailing humboldtpioneers@gmail.com.

Blood Drive a Success

Gail Saunders is chairman of the Trinidad Civic Club's efforts to increase blood supplies for the Blood Bank. Over 30 donors came to the mobile unit in Saunders Plaza last week.

Gail tells us that blood donations are consistently needed and to please watch for the next blood drive announcement.

Last month, donors were rewarded with a pizza slice from Headies Pizza and Pour.

RCCER makes its 2024 election endorsements

RCCER

HUMBOLDT – The Redwood Coalition for Climate and Environmental Responsibility has released its endorsements for the 2024 election.

The mission of the Redwood Coalition for Climate and Environmental Responsibility (RCCER, pronounced "rocker") is to ensure that local elected officials and government agencies on California's North Coast take robust, just and equitable actions to address the climate crisis and other key environmental issues.

There are a lot of important environmental issues at stake in this year's elections. We need to ensure that we elect leaders who are serious about fighting climate change and promoting environmental justice.

RCCER endorses the following candidates:

❖ ENDORSEMENTS

- Sarah Schaefer, Arcata City Council
 - Stacy Atkins-Salazar, Arcata City Council
 - Genevieve Serna, Arcata City Council
 - Tom Wheeler, Humboldt Bay Municipal Water District Division 1
 - Heidi Benzonelli, Humboldt Community Services District Board of Directors
 - Michael Hansen, Humboldt Community Services District Board of Directors
- In addition, RCCER urges climate voters to vote on the following ballot measures and propositions.
- RCCER urges climate voters to vote no on Measure F. Measure F would stop development of six affordable housing projects and a transit center that were placed in climate-friendly locations near jobs and essential services. RCCER strongly supports the kind of smart, infill, affordable housing that Measure F aims to prevent.

- RCCER urges climate voters to vote yes on Proposition 4. Proposition 4 would approve a State bond to fund necessary climate adaptation projects, conserve nature, and also fund new renewable energy projects.
- RCCER urges climate voters to vote yes on Proposition 5. If approved, Proposition 5 would lower the voter threshold for approval of local housing and infrastructure bonds from the current two-thirds to 55 percent.

This would make it easier for local communities to fund new infrastructure to adapt to the climate crisis as well as build new affordable housing.

MEASURE TO BE VOTED ON

Notice is hereby given that the following measure is to be voted on at the general municipal election to be held in the City of Arcata, on Tuesday, the 5th day of November 2024.

The Arcata Fire District has placed a measure on the ballot that would increase the District's appropriation limit allowing it full use of the revenues derived from the special tax passed in 2020. At the 2020 General Election, voters approved Measure F which authorized a special tax to fund fire protection services and further authorized an increase in the District's appropriations limit for a four-year period to allow the District to use the revenues derived from the special tax. Without increasing or extending the special tax, the District presents this measure to authorize an increase in the District's appropriation limit for a four-year period to allow for the full use of the revenues derived from the special tax to fund emergency services. The appropriation limit would extend for a four-year period ending in November 2028.

NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on this property.

NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (866)-960-8299 or visit this Internet Web site https://www.altisource.com/loginpage.aspx using the file number assigned to this case 2024-00391-CA. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale.

FALL PELAGIC TRIP ABOARD THE STELLER SUNRISE Godwit Days is pleased to offer its second-annual fall pelagic trip aboard the Steller Sunrise, a U.S. Coast Guard certified 43-foot vessel with 360` degree viewing and a bathroom facility. Join us Saturday, Oct. 26 from 7 a.m. to 3 p.m. with trip leaders Rob Fowler and Kathryn Wendel. We'll work on getting 15 to 20 miles offshore with our main focus on the Eel River Canyon and hope to see the various types of seabirds that live offshore in the pelagic zone like albatross, shearwaters, fulmars, auklets and maybe even storm-petrels or a Tufted Puffin. We'll make a few stops to try and chum in the seabirds to bring them in close for excellent views. You can never predict what will show up on the ocean as every day is different but it is always an experience for sure! Marine mammals like humpback whales, Pacific white-sided dolphins and northern fur seals are also a possibility. Bring a lunch, water, sunscreen, dress in layers, optics cloth like a bandana or such to keep your optics and camera lens clean and take all the precautions one would when going out on the ocean (e.g., taking seasickness medication, not drinking a lot of alcohol the night before, etc.). Binoculars and cameras are welcome, but no spotting scopes are permitted. Registration is required. Limited spaces available. godwitdays.org.

State-Cal Poly collab to help wildfire insurance rates

Daniel Mintz
MAD RIVER UNION
HUMBOLDT – The state's legislature is adjourned for the year, leaving wildfire insurance and hemp legislation unsettled. Humboldt County's state representatives have vowed to address what's been described as a homeowners' insurance "crisis" but their efforts to advance new laws on it haven't yielded results. Meanwhile, hemp legislation opposed by local cannabis farmers is tabled and Governor Gavin Newsom has issued emergency regulations on intoxicating hemp. The locally-important legislative scenarios were summarized by Karen

Lange, one of Humboldt County's lobbying consultants, at the Sept. 24 Board of Supervisors meeting. Senator Mike McGuire wants to advance new legislation easing the cost and expanding availability of wildfire insurance but hasn't been able to this year. Lange told supervisors that despite the absence of a bill, there is progress in the form of a "very exciting" new partnership between Cal Poly Humboldt and the state's Department of Insurance on "how to develop catastrophic modeling for insurance rates." The future cost impacts of climate change aren't worked into insurance "risk models," she continued, and the state-Cal Poly partnership will "figure out how to set rates that stabilize the insurance market and keep insurers in California." It's hoped that new risk models will lead to damage prevention but Lange said it's a long term strategy and

"accessibility" of insurance "doesn't equate to affordability."

She added, "Unfortunately, there's not a lot of progress so far on wildfire insurance but there's work happening now."

On the hemp side, Lange reported that Assembly Bill 2223 failed to come to a legislative vote. Cannabis industry advocates opposed it, saying it gave intoxicating hemp an unfair competitive advantage due to comparatively light regulation.

Newsom's emergency regulations, issued on Sept. 6 shortly after the legislature adjourned, will likely draw a hemp industry lawsuit and another try at legislation is expected next year. Lange said the emergency regulations "get intoxicating hemp off of store shelves and only into dispensaries, where there are age gates."

With litigation anticipated, "The issue will come back in 2025, I'm sure of it," she continued, and the county's lobbyists are ready to "respond rapidly" if new legislation is introduced next year.

The lack of progress on the insurance issues was discussed by supervisors.

Supervisor Steve Madrone emphasized the importance of recognizing fire-safe efforts.

"Ultimately, homeowners want to have their (insurance) assessments done at the parcel level," he said, which would take into account efforts to create defensible space and other fire damage prevention investments.

"They really should be rewarded for that," he continued. "So no matter how good they get all these models, it still doesn't get us to the point of really respecting the individual efforts that people put into it."

The legislative arena also includes a November election ballot measure, Proposition 35.

It extends a tax on health insurance companies and mandates the tax revenue be used to improve health care services.

In a separate agenda item, supervisors approved a resolution in support of Prop. 35.

NORTHCOAST REGIONAL LAND TRUST
FORTUNA – The Northcoast Regional Land Trust (NRLT) is pleased to host their "Boots & Birkenstocks" Annual Celebration on Saturday, Oct.12 at the Fortuna River Lodge. This event celebrates the conservation of farms, forests, ranches and watersheds and the many Land Trust supporters who make this work possible.

Tickets are $100 and are available online at givebuter.com/AC24 or at the door. Doors open at 5 p.m. and dinner is at 6:45 p.m.

NRLT looks forward to the Annual Celebration dinner and auction each year as an opportunity to break bread with those who value the wild and working lands of this region and to raise funds to continue conserving these important places. At the root of it all is the people from varied walks of life who stand together to protect rural livelihoods and irreplaceable landscapes.

This year's event features live music by All Wheel Drive, flowers by Buttermilk Floral, a tasty dinner by Dorris & Daughter Catering, dessert by Foggy Bottoms Boys' Jersey Scoops, beef donated by Humboldt Grass-fed Beef and prepared by Peter Bussman with local tuna, an open bar and great company.

Lee Mora of Humboldt Auction Yard will be running the live auction which includes art inspired by the land, vacation stays near and far, a sightseeing flight over Humboldt County, local beef packages, CSA shares, farm and ranch tours, handmade furniture and more! The silent auction features a wide array of items generously donated by local businesses, artists and farms.

The Northcoast Regional Land Trust's Annual Celebration is generously sponsored by Wildberries Marketplace, American AgCredit, Green Diamond Resource Company, Humboldt and Mendocino Redwood Companies, Hunter Hunter & Hunt LLP, Michael Love & Associates, North Fork Lumber, Points West Surveying Company, RWE, Vineyard Offshore, Harbers Insurance Agency, Omsberg & Preston, Hubbard's German Auto, Stillwater Sciences, Hjerpe Law LLP, Humboldt Grass-fed Beef, Humboldt Auction Yard, Humboldt Area Foundation, Planwest Partners, Redwood Capital Bank and Erin Kelly and Randy Terra.
